

""Twitter handle (and profile name): GroupDemocracy (The Democracy Group)

Twitter description: A network of podcasts about democracy, civic engagement, and civil discourse. Subscribe to our newsletter: <https://t.co/zrIAc6hfep>

Description of the organization from a third party source: "The Democracy Group is a network of podcasts united around the goal of helping listeners understand what's broken in our democracy, and how people are working together to fix it. We see the network as a public service dedicated to creating a more informed, civically engaged electorate. Podcasts in this network model a form of dialogue and inquiry that is civil and well-informed and a commitment to fostering civic engagement. You'll hear from scholars, policy experts, journalists, organizers, and everyday people who are exercising the rights and responsibilities as democratic citizens. The network allows individual podcasts to collaborate with one another and provides listeners with a one-stop shop for podcasts about democracy, civic engagement, and civil discourse. Our podcasts move beyond the partisan horserace to examine larger-scale issues of politics, government, and civil society. The Democracy Group is organized and funded by The McCourtney Institute for Democracy at Penn State, which produces the Democracy Works podcast in partnership with WPSU, central Pennsylvania's NPR station."

Scraped text from their home page of their website: Titles: The Democracy Group

Headings: Giving a Voice to the Democracy Community; Free guide: 5 ways to take action today!; LISTEN TO OUR SHOWS; With Expert Guests; Learn how to take action; step 1: subscribe to our newsletter; step 2: take out media training; step 3: empower the next generation; want to work together?; sample our shows with the network playlist; JOIN OUR COMMUNITY AND NEVER MISS YOUR FAVORITE EPISODES

Paragraphs: Join our hundreds of subscribers and learn 5 ways you can take action as an everyday citizen to make democracy better!; The Democracy Group is a network of podcasts and organizations that create educational content about democracy, civic engagement, and civil discourse. We aim to provide informative, educational content that can increase curiosity and empathy among our listeners and use our platform to share the good work of organizations that are taking action to strengthen democracy.; Our bi-weekly newsletter delivers the latest episodes from across our network and information on how you can get involved with organizations working in civics education, media literacy, bridging divides, and more.; Part of our mission as a network is to share our expertise with others who want to use podcasts as a platform to make their voices heard and share the important work they're doing. Our media training equips scholars and thought leaders in the democracy space with the tools they need to be engaging podcast guests.; Our student podcast fellowship gives high school and college students the opportunity to share their perspective on politics through podcasting. Have a listen and spread the word to help the next generation to have their voices heard!; We're proud to partner with organizations that are doing the hard work of democracy across the country. We love to work with leaders, brands and organizations to create content that attracts, empowers and activates audiences. Are you interested in a collaboration? Let's chat.; Engaging in civil discourse. Inspiring civic engagement. Exploring the future of our democracy.; Join our community and never miss your favorite episodes from the Democracy Group.

Scraped text from their about page of their website: Titles: About The Democracy Group

Headings: ABOUT THE DEMOCRACY GROUP; Who We Are; OUR TEAM; OUR Network Members; frequently asked questions; JOIN OUR COMMUNITY AND NEVER MISS YOUR FAVORITE EPISODES

Paragraphs: The Democracy Group is a network of podcasts united around the goal of helping listeners understand what's broken in our democracy, and how people are working together to fix it. We see the network as a public service dedicated to creating a more informed, civically engaged electorate. Podcasts in this network model a form of dialogue and inquiry that is civil and well-informed and a commitment to fostering civic engagement. You'll hear from scholars, policy experts, journalists, organizers, and everyday people who are exercising the rights and responsibilities as democratic citizens. The network allows individual podcasts to collaborate with one another and provides listeners with a one-stop shop for podcasts about democracy, civic engagement, and civil discourse. Our podcasts move beyond the partisan horserace to examine larger-scale issues of politics, government, and civil society. The Democracy Group is organized and funded by The McCourtney Institute for Democracy at Penn State, which produces the Democracy Works podcast in partnership with WPSU, central Pennsylvania's NPR station.; Thanks for your interest! We want to provide our listeners a place to encounter diverse perspectives, trustworthy content, with each show approaching democracy in a unique way for people we are not already currently reaching. If you feel like you are a good fit, then please apply.; Our shows are always happy to have exciting guests on. If you'd like to pitch your author, expert, or leader to be on our shows, please send your pitch here.; We love to work with leaders, brands and organizations to create content that attracts, empowers and activates audiences. Are you interested in creating a podcast episode, engaging new audiences, or some other collaboration? Let's chat.; Check out our partnership page for more info about why sponsoring The Democracy Group yields big results, or email us to learn more.; Engaging in civil discourse. Inspiring civic engagement. Exploring the future of our democracy.; Join our community and never miss your favorite episodes from the Democracy Group.

Scraped text from their mission page of their website: Titles: NA

Headings: NA

Paragraphs: NA

Scraped text from their history page of their website: Titles: NA

Headings: NA

Paragraphs: NA

Summaries of Links: Based solely on the information provided, it can be inferred that this organization is likely focused on promoting democracy and civic engagement. The presence of terms like "democracy," "politics," "shows," "topics," "newsletter," "resources," "fellowship," "blog," "speakers," "partnerships," and "donate" suggests that the organization aims to educate, inform, and engage the public on issues related to democracy and politics. The inclusion of links to various podcasts, articles, and social media platforms indicates that the organization utilizes multiple channels to disseminate information and foster discussions. The mention of "media training" and "speakers" suggests that the organization may also provide training and support to individuals interested in becoming more effective communicators on democratic issues. Additionally, the presence of a "donate" link suggests that the organization relies on donations to support its activities. ""