

""Twitter handle (and profile name): carolinewlee (Caroline W. Lee)

Twitter description: Sociologist. Author of Do-It-Yourself Democracy and co-editor of Democratizing Inequalities. <https://t.co/IN2a00yKUt>

Description of the organization from a third party source: "I am a professor of sociology in the Anthropology & Sociology Department at Lafayette College. My research explores public engagement and inequality. I am about to begin a new project on democracy and accountability in higher education."

Scraped text from their home page of their website: Titles: Anthropology and Sociology
Â· Lafayette College

Headings: Anthropology and Sociology; From news.lafayette.edu; Nov 21, 2023; Aug 23, 2023; Jul 12, 2023; Contact Information; Caroline Lee; Take the Next Step Paragraphs: Studying Anthropology and Sociology (A&S) at Lafayette gives students a strong grounding in cultural difference and diversity as well as social forms and processes on a global scale.; Our courses stimulate critical thinking, requiring students to re-examine their assumptions and challenge conventional wisdom. Through engagement with A&S courses, Lafayette students develop a sharper awareness of cultural and social complexity across different contexts around the world. Students graduate from A&S with a strong grounding in classical and contemporary sociocultural theory, while having the opportunity to learn about different research methods and advance their own original research projects. Anthropology and Sociology courses effectively prepare students for professional lives that require strong analytic and research capabilities and the capacity to work effectively in diverse or cross-cultural environments.; ; Rebecca Kissane, professor of sociology, was quoted in the Nov. 9 edition of Marketplace, American Public Media's flagship business news program, about...; "What initially drew me to Lafayette, aside from the supportive and inclusive culture of the Anthropology and Sociology Department, was the chance to design...; Memory Wars explores why Americans decide to fix historical narratives to the land and considers the consequences of doing so.; (610) 330-5913; (610) 330-5658

Scraped text from their about page of their website: Titles: About Â· Lafayette College

Headings: About Us; Who We Are; Class Profile; Traditions; Life At Lafayette; We are an educational connected community - diverse, welcoming and active. Students live on campus and enjoy an amazing array of social, cultural, artistic, and athletic activities.; Additional Resources; WELCOME TO EASTON; Learn more about Easton; Namesake and History; Take the Next Step Paragraphs: Why not you? Why not here? Why not now?; At Lafayette College, we challenge our students to move beyond the familiar, the comfortable, the easy. We dare them to become thinkers and leaders themselves. We offer them opportunities to jump into the thick of things, to take risks, to care deeply.; A beautiful campus overlooking the historic Delaware River. A tradition-rich liberal arts college. A selective enrollment small enough to make you feel like you belong to a real community. A college large enough to give you unique opportunities across the arts, sciences and engineering. This is Lafayette College.; ; Easton's many charms include its stunning natural beauty of the valley, cultural offerings, and an abundance of retail, dining, and entertainment opportunities for all visitors. Learn more about Easton.; ; Downtown Easton is also home to many restaurants, art galleries, and antique shops. It hosts concerts, plays, musicals, stand-up comics, and dance performances. Learn about things to do in Easton.; ; Many of the Northeast's major metropolitan markets are within easy reach of the Lehigh Valley by plane, train, bus, or car. Plan your visit. Transportation | Hotels/Shopping/Dining; More than two centuries ago, a 19-year-old left home to follow a dream. He came to a new place far away, remade himself as a student and scholar and became a leader and a hero. His lifelong philosophy was so important to him he had its Latin translation emblazoned on his family crest. "Cur Non." Today, at the college that bears his name, we embrace that philosophy daily.;

Scraped text from their mission page of their website: Titles: Mission and History - About Â· About Â· Lafayette College

Headings: Mission and History; Mission; Accreditation; Charter & Statutes; Additional Resources; Take the Next Step

Paragraphs: ; In an environment that fosters the free exchange of ideas, Lafayette College seeks to nurture the inquiring mind and to integrate intellectual, social, and personal growth. The College strives to develop students' skills of critical thinking, verbal communication, and quantitative reasoning and their capacity for creative endeavor; it encourages students to examine the traditions of their own culture and those of others; to develop systems of values that include an understanding of personal, social, and professional responsibility; and to regard education as an indispensable, lifelong process.; Lafayette College is accredited by the Commission on Higher Education of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools, 3624 Market Street, Philadelphia, PA 19104; 215.662.5606. The Commission on Higher Education is an institutional accrediting agency recognized by the United States Secretary of Education and the Council for Higher Education Accreditation.; The Chemical Engineering Program, Civil Engineering Program, Electrical and Computer Engineering Program, and Mechanical Engineering Program are accredited by the Engineering Accreditation Commission of the ABET, <http://www.abet.org>; The Bachelor of Science in Computer Science degree is accredited by the Computing Accreditation Commission of the ABET, <http://www.abet.org>; The Bachelor of Science program in chemistry and, under certain conditions, the Bachelor of Arts in chemistry meet the requirements of the American Chemical Society, making graduates of those programs eligible for membership in the Society immediately upon graduation.; The Charter, an act of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania legislature, is the legal instrument by which Lafayette College was incorporated in 1826-a document that today would be called "articles of incorporation." The Charter was amended seven times between 1832 and 1999. The Statutes are the College's (that is, the Board of Trustees') corporate bylaws; the Statutes have been amended 17 times since 1971, when they were completely "recodified." These two documents have been traditionally published in a single booklet, Charter of Lafayette College and Amendments Thereto; Statutes of Lafayette College as Amended, last issued in May 2015.

Scraped text from their history page of their website: Titles: Mission and History - About • About • Lafayette College

Headings: Mission and History; Mission; Accreditation; Charter & Statutes; Additional Resources; Take the Next Step

Paragraphs: ; In an environment that fosters the free exchange of ideas, Lafayette College seeks to nurture the inquiring mind and to integrate intellectual, social, and personal growth. The College strives to develop students' skills of critical thinking, verbal communication, and quantitative reasoning and their capacity for creative endeavor; it encourages students to examine the traditions of their own culture and those of others; to develop systems of values that include an understanding of personal, social, and professional responsibility; and to regard education as an indispensable, lifelong process.; Lafayette College is accredited by the Commission on Higher Education of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools, 3624 Market Street, Philadelphia, PA 19104; 215.662.5606. The Commission on Higher Education is an institutional accrediting agency recognized by the United States Secretary of Education and the Council for Higher Education Accreditation.; The Chemical Engineering Program, Civil Engineering Program, Electrical and Computer Engineering Program, and Mechanical Engineering Program are accredited by the Engineering Accreditation Commission of the ABET, <http://www.abet.org>.; The Bachelor of Science in Computer Science degree is accredited by the Computing Accreditation Commission of the ABET, <http://www.abet.org>.; The Bachelor of Science program in chemistry and, under certain conditions, the Bachelor of Arts in chemistry meet the requirements of the American Chemical Society, making graduates of those programs eligible for membership in the Society immediately upon graduation.; The Charter, an act of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania legislature, is the legal instrument by which Lafayette College was incorporated in 1826-a document that today would be called "articles of incorporation." The Charter was amended seven times between 1832 and 1999. The Statutes are the College's (that is, the Board of Trustees') corporate bylaws; the Statutes have been amended 17 times since 1971, when they were completely "recodified." These two documents have been traditionally published in a single booklet, Charter of Lafayette College and Amendments Thereto; Statutes of Lafayette College as Amended, last issued in May 2015.

Summaries of Links: Based solely on the provided information, it can be inferred that this organization is an educational institution, likely a college or university. The presence of pages dedicated to academics, departments and programs, faculty, and curriculum offerings suggests a focus on higher education. The inclusion of a library, academic support, and a calendar with academic categories further reinforces this notion. Additionally, the existence of pages related to campus life, clubs and organizations, the arts, athletics, and traditions indicates a vibrant and well-rounded student experience. The organization also seems to have a focus on sustainability and community engagement, as evidenced by dedicated pages on these topics. Furthermore, the presence of admissions-related pages, including information on what the institution looks for in applicants, admissions visits, and financial aid, suggests that it is actively seeking new students. The inclusion of pages for alumni and families, as well as a development section for giving, indicates a strong sense of community and engagement with former students and supporters. Overall, the provided information points to an organization that is dedicated to providing a comprehensive and enriching educational experience for its students."""