

""Twitter handle (and profile name): AdamDavisOHm (adam davis)

Twitter description: point guard

Description of the organization from a third party source: "For over a decade, Oregon Humanities has recruited and trained people to facilitate conversations that connect Oregonians to ideas that change lives and transforms communities. We have experience in launching and guiding public dialogues on topics ranging from broad philosophical issues, to cross-cultural conversations, and hot-button political issues. We envision an Oregon that invites diverse perspectives, explores challenging questions, and strives for just communities."

Scraped text from their home page of their website: Titles: Home - Oregon Humanities

Headings: Conversation Project Leaders Wanted; Meet the 2024-26 Fields Artist Fellows; HIP Courses; Public Program Grants; Events & Opportunities; CANCELED: Consider This with John Lee Clark and Jelica Nuccio; Virtual facilitation training; Consider This with Father Greg Boyle; In-person facilitation training; Everyone Can Be a Leader: Exploring Nontraditional Community Leadership; Consider This with Eli Saslow; What We Do; Read/Listen/Look; Who We Are; Mailing List; Follow Us

Paragraphs: Oregon Humanities is looking for people who want to facilitate conversations that get people talking, listening, and connecting to one another.; Community Conversations; Oregon Humanities, in partnership with Oregon Community Foundation, is pleased to announce the recipients of the third Fields Artist Fellowship.; Other Projects; View upcoming courses, descriptions, and registration information.; Humanity in Perspective; Oregon Humanities awards annual Public Program Grants in support of programs across Oregon that explore challenging questions and strive for just communities.; Grants; Monmouth; statewide; Portland; Portland; Portland; Portland; Be the first to hear what we're doing around the state.; ; 610 SW Alder St., Suite 1111_x000D_

Portland, Oregon 97205_x000D_

EIN: 93-0716419_x000D_

(503) 241-0543 / (800) 735-0543 / o.hm@oregonhumanities.org; (C) 2024 Oregon Humanities. All Rights Reserved.

Scraped text from their about page of their website: Titles: About Oregon Humanities - Oregon Humanities

Headings: About Oregon Humanities; Our Mission; Our Vision; Core Values; Commitment to Equity and Inclusion; Diversity in Hiring; Equal Employment Statement; Reasonable

Accommodation Statement; About Oregon Humanities; About the Work; Advocacy; Staff; Board of Directors; Jobs & Opportunities; Support Us; Annual Report; What We Do; Read/Listen/Look; Who We Are; Mailing List; Follow Us

Paragraphs: Oregon Humanities is committed to bringing people together across differences of background, experience, and belief. Each year, we offer hundreds of public conversations and programs across the state, train and support dozens of discussion facilitators, and award grants and fellowships that help people connect, reflect, and cultivate a stronger sense of agency in their communities. In our magazine and on our website, we publish stories that explore the thoughts, perspectives, and experiences of Oregonians, especially those who have been ignored, generalized, or oppressed. Our long-term hope is that the work of Oregon Humanities will make broad and significant contributions to a more cohesive, inclusive, and imaginative democratic culture.; Oregon Humanities is an independent, nonprofit affiliate of the National Endowment for the Humanities. Oregon Humanities, formerly the Oregon Council for the Humanities, was established in 1971 and is one of five statewide partners of the Oregon Cultural Trust. If you have questions about any of our programs, please view our staff list to find the appropriate contact person or call us at (503) 241-0543 in Portland or (800) 735-0543 from elsewhere in the state.; Oregon Humanities connects people and communities through conversation, storytelling, and participatory programs to inspire understanding and collaborative change.; An Oregon that invites diverse perspectives, explores challenging questions, and strives for just communities.; Community; Equity; Imagination; Oregon Humanities is committed to the creation of inclusive spaces and to the equitable treatment of all-including participants, audiences, supporters, staff, and board-at every level of the organization and in all of our programs.; Oregon Humanities believes equity, justice, empathy, and respect are essential for vital, flourishing communities. We encourage applications from candidates with diverse backgrounds, particularly those from historically underrepresented groups, whose professional and personal experiences will help us work toward our vision of an Oregon that invites diverse perspectives, explores challenging questions, and strives for just communities.; Oregon Humanities is an equal opportunity employer. It is the policy of OH to provide equal employment opportunity in accordance with applicable law to all qualified individuals without regard to their race, color, creed, religion, age, gender, sexual orientation, marital status, military status, political opinion, sex, national origin, familial status, mental and physical disability, gender identity, and source of income, disability or any other status protected by federal, state, or local law in all personnel actions including recruitment, evaluation, selection, promotion, compensation, training, and termination. Moreover, these conditions shall not affect decisions on compensation, advancement, transfer, leave or termination. Relations between employees shall be based on respect for person, regard for the effectiveness and well being of the organization, and mutual support.; Consistent with applicable disability law, OH will provide reasonable accommodations to assist qualified applicants or employees with disabilities to participate in the job application process, to perform the essential function of a job, and to enjoy the same benefits and privileges of employment applicable to similarly situated employees without disabilities, provided the accommodation would not impose an "undue hardship" on the operation of

OH.; Oregon Humanities is a member of the Federation of State Humanities Councils, the Cultural Advocacy Coalition, and Business for a Better Portland.; ; Be the first to hear what we're doing around the state.; ; 610 SW Alder St., Suite 1111_x000D_

Portland, Oregon 97205_x000D_

EIN: 93-0716419_x000D_

(503) 241-0543 / (800) 735-0543 / o.hm@oregonhumanities.org; (C) 2024 Oregon Humanities. All Rights Reserved.

Scraped text from their mission page of their website: Titles: NA

Headings: NA

Paragraphs: NA

Scraped text from their history page of their website: Titles: NA

Headings: NA

Paragraphs: NA

Summaries of Links: Based solely on the provided information, it can be inferred that this organization is involved in a variety of programs, services, and initiatives related to humanities, education, and community engagement. It offers programs such as the Conversation Project, Humanity in Perspective, Consider This, So Much Together, and Other Projects, which aim to foster dialogue, understanding, and critical thinking. Additionally, it provides services such as grants, curriculum guides, and past recordings, as well as resources for educators and the general public. The organization also engages in advocacy, has a staff and board, and offers job opportunities. Furthermore, it has a presence on social media platforms and an email address for communication. While the specific nature of the organization's work cannot be fully determined from the provided information, it appears to be dedicated to promoting humanities, education, and community engagement in various ways. ""