

""Twitter handle (and profile name): CRAcircles (CRA)

Twitter description: The Center for Restorative Approaches changes the way we handle conflict in workplaces, schools, and communities.

Description of the organization from a third party source: "The Center for Restorative Approaches (CRA) works to provide schools, workplaces and other communities with training, consulting and facilitation of dialogue circles which improve communication, build relationships, reduce violence and allow those most impacted by conflict and wrongdoing to develop their own solutions for justice and well-being."

Scraped text from their home page of their website: Titles:

Headings: ; Training; Restorative Circles; Accountability; Relationships; Nurturing our Humanity: One Person, One Circle, and One Community at a Time.; ; 1375; Restorative Interventions Convened Since 2009; CIRCLE IMPACT; 415,080; In-class Instructional Minutes Saved Due to Suspension Reductions since January 2015

Paragraphs:

Scraped text from their about page of their website: Titles: NA

Headings: NA

Paragraphs: NA

Scraped text from their mission page of their website: Titles: NA

Headings: NA

Paragraphs: NA

Scraped text from their history page of their website: Titles: NA

Headings: NA

Paragraphs: NA

Summaries of Links: Based solely on the provided information, it can be inferred that this organization is called the Center for Restorative Approaches (CRA). The organization has a website, social media accounts, and a physical address. It appears to focus on restorative approaches, which are a set of practices that aim to repair harm and build relationships between people who have been in conflict. The organization offers various services, including workshops, trainings, and consultations. It also has a team of professionals who work to support individuals and communities in using restorative approaches. Additionally, the organization has a section on its website where people can donate and volunteer. Overall, the information suggests that this organization is dedicated to promoting restorative approaches and supporting individuals and communities in resolving conflicts and building relationships."""