

""Twitter handle (and profile name): ElectedWomen (NFWL)

Twitter description: NFWL's mission is to provide strategic resources to elected women for leadership development, exchange of diverse legislative ideas, & effective governance.

Description of the organization from a third party source: "Since 1938, NFWL has served as a forum for elected women from across the country to be empowered through information and experience. We are the oldest organization for elected women in America and the ONLY one that includes women on the city, county and state levels. "

Scraped text from their home page of their website: Titles: National Foundation for Women Legislators | WomenLegislators.orgNational Foundation for Women Legislators | WomenLegislators.org | National Foundation for Women Legislators | WomenLegislators.org

Headings: 2023 Annual Conference; Discover the power of collaboration and conversation when diverse and accomplished elected women gather.; NFWL Leadership Academy; Sign up for CliftonStrengths(R) Training Sessions!; Honoring Courageous Leaders; The recipients of the 2023 John F. Kennedy Profile in Courage Award - a truly extraordinary group of individuals!; What You Need To Know.; ACTION CENTER; ENDING PERIOD POVERTY; Our Sponsors; Elected Women Across America Podcast; ACTION CENTER; Upcoming Events; leadership_academy

Paragraphs: ; ; The National Foundation for Women Legislators (NFWL) is pleased to announce the winners of its "Ending Period Poverty with NFWL Contest." The contest aimed to raise awareness about period poverty and to support innovative solutions to address this issue.; Thanks to Kimberly-Clark and its U by Kotex(R) brand, each winner will receive a $1,000 donation of period products to the community initiative of their choice, and the opportunity to be featured on NFWL's social media channels throughout the month of May leading up to Period Poverty Awareness Week, May 22-28, 2023.; After receiving numerous entries from across the country, NFWL is proud to recognize these winners.; Read More >>; Interested in staying up to date with NFWL's work on ending period poverty? Hoping to host an event in your state? Get Involved; ; ; ; A podcast featuring elected women with common goals to exchange legislative ideas and reach across the aisle. Hosted by the National Foundation for Women's Legislators, this podcast provides a direct line to the leaders that the organization empowers. Listen on Apple Podcasts.; ; This is your platform to elevate your voice and contribute to important discussions. Record with us today!; Listen to the latest episode of Elected Women Across America! â Join us as we spotlight Georgia State Representative Kim Schofield in our Healthcare series. Representative Schofield shares her personal health journey, shaping her passionate stance on health policy, and underscores the crucial need for health access at every age. â â Listen now at the link in our bio! ðŸŽ™! â€” #NFWL #Electedwomen; Here's a recap from the final day of #NFWL2023! We ended this year's Annual Conference with another round of incredible sessions!; Here's a recap of Day 2 at #NFWL2023! It was another amazing day of policy sessions, networking, and great conversations. Thank you to all of our wonderful speakers and sponsors who made these discussions possible! Stay tuned for Day 3!; Here's a sneak peak into this morning's policy roundtables at #NFWL2023!; Day 1 of #NFWL2023; Congratulations to the recipients of the Women of Excellence Award, a prestigious honor presented by the National Foundation for Women Legislators!â€” These outstanding women are leading the way in driving meaningful change, pushing boundaries through their unwavering commitment to leadership and public service.â€” â€” Representative Viola Davis, GAâ€” Representative Julie von Haefen, NCâ€” Representative Tracy Marra, CTâ€” Representative Christine Watkins, UTâ€” Commissioner Jennifer DeJournett, MNâ€” Representative Dana McLean, MSâ€” Senator Alana DiMario, RIâ€” Delegate April Miller, MDâ€” Representative Barbara Ann Fenton-Fung, RIâ€” â€” #NFWL #ElectedWomen; Congratulations to the recipients of the the Women of Excellence Award, a prestigious honor presented by the National Foundation for Women Legislators! â€” â€” These outstanding individuals are paving the way for transformative change, showcasing unwavering commitment to leadership and public service.â€” â€” Representative Deb Lavender, MOâ€” Representative Zakiya Summers, MSâ€” Senator Sharon Carson, NHâ€” Senator Merika Coleman, ALâ€” Representative Allison Tant, FLâ€” Representative Kanani Souza, HIâ€” Senator Kristin Corrado, NJâ€” Assemblywoman Jennifer Lunsford, NYâ€” Representative Mary Littleton, TNâ€” â€” #NFWL #Electedwomen; To all who have served and continue to serve our country, thank you! ðŸŽ†â€”â€” #VeteransDay; Facebook; (C) National Foundation for Women Legislatorsnfwl@womenlegislators.org | 703-518-7931; (C) National Foundation for Women Legislatorsnfwl@womenlegislators.org | 703-518-7931

Scraped text from their about page of their website: Titles: About Us | National Foundation for Women Legislators | WomenLegislators.orgNational Foundation for Women Legislators | WomenLegislators.org

Headings: About Us; leadership_academy

Paragraphs: ; The greatest rising force in American politics today is not a political party, nor is it a lobbying community, it is women.; THE VISION OF NFWL is to empower and inspire elected women to become thought leaders who shape America's future.; THE MISSION OF NFWL is to provide strategic resources to elected women for leadership development, exchange of diverse legislative ideas, and effective governance through conferences, state outreach, educational materials, professional and personal relationships, and networking. We encourage the election and/or appointment of women to public office.; Since 1971, the number of women serving in state legislatures has more than quintupled. Today they hold 2,307, or 31.2% of the 7,383 seats nationwide. Currently, 24 women serve in the US Senate and 120 serve in the US House of Representatives, while 95 women hold statewide elective office. Of those, there are 9 women Governors, 19 Lt. Governors, 8

Attorneys General and 21 Secretaries of State. From Washington, DC to local city councils, women are making a big difference in politics and how our country is run. Women chair numerous committees, they influence policy and they understand the importance of building bipartisan coalitions in support of the nation's most pressing concerns to ensure widespread change in both thought and policy on a variety of issues.; That's where the National Foundation for Women Legislators comes in! Since 1938, NFWL has served as a forum for elected women from across the country to be empowered through information and experience. As the oldest organization for elected women in America and the ONLY one that includes women on the city, county and state levels, we encourage our members to take leadership roles and form connections across the aisle. We know that only by working together, can we achieve our goals.; Since we do not have dues, the over 5,000 elected women in the US on the state, county and municipal levels are considered members, receive our communications and are invited to participate in our programs.; NFWL is a non-partisan 501c3, educational foundation for elected women on the state, county, and municipal levels.; (C) National Foundation for Women Legislatorsnfwl@womenlegislators.org | 703-518-7931; (C) National Foundation for Women Legislatorsnfwl@womenlegislators.org | 703-518-7931

Scraped text from their mission page of their website: Titles: NA

Headings: NA

Paragraphs: NA

Scraped text from their history page of their website: Titles: NA

Headings: NA

Paragraphs: NA

Summaries of Links: The provided information suggests that the organization is focused on women legislators and their involvement in politics. It has various resources and programs dedicated to supporting and empowering women in legislative roles. The organization has a membership structure, a board of directors, state directors, committees, staff, sponsors, and partners. It organizes events, conferences, and webinars related to women's leadership and policy issues. The organization also advocates for policies that promote gender equality and women's rights. Additionally, it offers leadership training, scholarships, and awards to recognize and encourage women's participation in politics. Overall, the organization appears to be dedicated to advancing the role of women in legislative bodies and promoting policies that benefit women and society as a whole."""