

""Twitter handle (and profile name): cities4peace (Cities4Peace)

Twitter description: We help cities improve quality of life by actively promoting peace, compassion and nonviolence.

Description of the organization from a third party source: "Cities4Peace works to actively promote peace, compassion and social justice in communities and neighborhoods."

Scraped text from their home page of their website: Titles: Cities4Peace | Cities4Peace

Headings: Ambassadors of Peace; 'Peace is not the absence of conflict, it is the ability to handle conflict by peaceful means.'; ; Cities4Peace - a unique peace consultancy; Cities4Peace Initiative; Urban Challenges due to Violence; Our Goal; Way of Change; Our Peace Programs; SKY Mindful Leadership; Ambassadors of Peace Program; Agents of Change; Impact of Our Programs; Testimonials; Connect with Us; Support the Initiative; Our Partners

Paragraphs: Uplifting CommunitiesTransforming Cities; Peace and NonviolenceEducation Module; ; Customized Leadership Program taught over 10 weeks to build the capacity of community leaders to promote greater mental health, healing, and resilience within themselves and their communities, neighborhoods and organizations that they serve. The content of the program are customized to the needs of the community.; ; ; ; ; "We carry a heavy load when we do community intervention work ...and the breathing and meditation tools have helped to lighten that load 100%"; "In the workshop, I interacted with law enforcement in a way that I would not have done normally. This allowed me to see them as human beings."; First Name; Last Name; Name of Organization; Email; Phone Number; City; Country; Message; ; Your generous donations will help us offer our programs to cities worldwide.; We thank you for your support.;

Scraped text from their about page of their website: Titles: About Us | Cities4Peace

Headings: ABOUT IAHV; IAHV FOUNDER; Team; Advisors; Our Partners

Paragraphs: The International Association for Human Values (IAHV) was registered as a 501(c)(3) in the United States in 1998. IAHV offers programs to reduce stress and develop leaders so that human values can flourish in people and communities. We foster the daily practice of human values - a sense of connectedness and respect for all people and the natural environment, an attitude of non-violence, and an ethic of social service. Our programs enhance clarity of mind, shift attitudes and behaviors, and develop leaders and communities that are resilient, responsible, and inspired.; IAHV contributes to the 17 SDGs of the UN, to programs of governments and communities; IAHV has developed own programs and projects for special regions or communities - wherever help and change is needed. Through its country organizations and partners, IAHV conducts service projects for humanitarian and disaster relief initiatives throughout the world. IAHV is registered in the following countries: France, Germany, United Kingdom, The Netherlands, Denmark, Italy, Norway, Russia, Slovenia, USA, Canada, South Africa, Kenya, India, United Arab Emirates, Australia, and St. Lucia.; Read more about IAHV's other programs and impact: <http://us.iahv.org>; IAHV was created in 1997 by global humanitarian leader, Sri Sri Ravi Shankar as a global platform for humanitarian initiatives that solve problems by uplifting human values. Recognized by world leaders, as a voice of peace and nonviolence, Sri Sri was instrumental in enabling peace through dialogue in Colombia, Iraq and several other locations worldwide eg Ivory Coast, Venezuela, Kashmir, etc.; Sri Sri has consistently emphasized the need for reinforcing human values and encourages multi-cultural education as the remedy for fanaticism and terrorism to achieve sustainable peace on our planet. Sri Sri has touched the lives of millions around the world, going beyond the barriers of race, nationality and religion with the message of a one-world family free from stress and violence that can be created through the reawakening of human values and service.; Read more about Sri Sri's peace initiative efforts.; ; Mandar has worked at Shell for 17 years and managed Shell's prestigious GameChanger social innovation program investing in ideas that create shared value - business value and social impact. In 2016, Mandar produced the From India With Love documentary film to reinvigorate the message of nonviolence (or Ahimsa) in the world. Aligned with this mission, in Oct 2018, Mandar hosted the inaugural World Summit for Countering Violence & Extremism that brought together peace activists and law enforcement executives from across the world in the spirit of promoting promote peace and compassion in the world.; For over a decade, Mandar has taught leadership programs using meditation practices for the International Association for Human Values and the Art of Living Foundation.; Deepak is a Breathwork and Meditation Instructor with the IAHV Prison Program as well as the Art of Living Foundation, a global non-profit organization. He was the Director of Operations for the World Summit for Countering Violence & Extremism and has served as Director, Strategic Partnerships for the From India With Love initiative. He also works in Silicon Management at Apple Inc. He has been working on community peace programs since 2012 and has pioneered new workshops and ways of engaging with the community.; A meditator since the age of 11, he has travelled through a diverse spiritual and an intense personal journey before finding his calling with the Art of Living Foundation's work. He is the brains behind the Foundation's extremely successful and innovate YogaFEST and is very passionate about taking the true knowledge of Yoga and Meditation to communities all over the world.; Brinda Sivaramakrishnan is a Community Health Professor and Program chair at Tacoma Community College. In the last 10 years she has worked in research capacities at City University of New York's World Trade Center Asthma Study, the Urban Indian Health Institute. Currently she is working as a consultant with the University of Washington's Food and Economic Security study related to COVID-19. Brinda has taught meditation based leadership programs to students in high schools and universities since 2011 as a volunteer for IAHV.; Ms Savelli became Director of the IAHV Prison Program (Stress Management & Rehabilitation Training) in 2009. She is a prison silence course pioneer, and has taught IAHV courses to thousands nationwide, as well as internationally. In 2016, she won the Washington DC DOC "Making a Difference" George Strawn Award, and in 2018 Gabriella became the International Coordinator. She served on the Board of SELA Red Cross, and is a graduate of the Office of Victim's Assistance Leadership Program. Prior to working with IAHV, Gabriella graduated Magna Cum Laude from Edinboro University, and served as a Public Welfare caseworker for 10 years.; Timsa's leadership and communication skills shine through her roles as a Roundsquare Prefect, TED ED Creativity Club Leader, and Editor in Chief of the school newsletter. She also excels in creative endeavors, serving as the Film Productions Head and Equipment Manager at KCL, and contributing to animal welfare campaigns in India.; Dr. Carson, serves as the founding Director of the Martin Luther King, Jr., Research and Education Institute at Stanford University. Selected in 1985 by Mrs. Coretta Scott King to edit and publish the papers of her late husband, Stanford University historian Clayborne Carson has devoted most of his professional life to the study of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., and the movements that Dr. King inspired. Under Dr. Carson's direction, the King Papers Project has produced seven volumes of a definitive, comprehensive edition of King's speeches, sermons, correspondence, publications, and unpublished writings. Dr. Carson has also edited numerous other books based on King's papers, including The Autobiography of Martin Luther King, Jr.; Andrew holds a Masters of International Affairs from Columbia University and has taught development and peacebuilding studies at the undergraduate and graduate level, including at Queen's University in Canada where he currently is an adjunct professor.; Lisa is currently an adjunct professor at National University. She is also currently the Director of Educational Programs for the National College Recourses Foundation. Prior to this, Lisa was an assistant principal for Inglewood Community Adult School for over six years. Lisa has a BA in Communicative Disorders from California State University Fullerton. And two Masters degrees, one in special education from National University (NU) and the other in educational administration from California State University Dominguez Hills. She has been a passionate educator for the past three decades and enjoys networking and building professional relationships with those in the educational ecosystems and to design educational programs to empower youth.; AdeSola (Sola), is considered by many to be a trusted advisor, thought partner, spiritual guide and friend. His professional path has been rewardingly unconventional and personally transformational. Taking him from a young marketing professional traveling the globe for the National Football League, to serving children and families in NYC's foster care system, to founding a leadership and organizational development consulting firm, to serving as a private practice psychotherapist and Executive Coach, to C-Suite media executive, to yoga and meditation practitioner and teacher.; He completed his 200 Hour Dharma Yoga Teacher Training, is Certified by the International Association for Human Values as an Ambassador of Peace and is a graduate of the Martin Luther King Center's Non Violence 360 training. He is a Licensed Clinical Social Worker and has an undergraduate degree in communications and advanced degrees in education, social work and business. He is a loving father and husband born of bi-racial descent to a white Jewish mother and Black Pentecostal father.; For nearly forty years, John has led and managed diverse and complex nonprofit and for-profit organizations. John was engaged in three pioneering start-ups traversing education and entertainment. He regards himself as a social entrepreneur who specializes in building successful and growing organizations through change management, innovation and a focus on social outcomes. After serving 5 years on the Board of Directors, John served as Executive VP and Chief Operating Officer for the California Community Foundation (CCF) for 12 years. He has also served as President/CEO of Big Brothers Big Sisters of Greater Los Angeles, and Vice Chancellor of External Affairs at UCLA. More than anything, John considers himself a facilitator of change. John currently serves on the boards of the MLK Community Hospital Foundation, Japanese American National Museum, SCGA Foundation and Walden University.;

Scraped text from their mission page of their website: Titles: Be The Change | Cities4Peace

Headings: At a time, when violence has escalated everywhere, inaction is no longer an option.; We can no longer remain bystanders. It is imperative that each one of us gets actively involved towards creating safe and inclusive societies for our children and the future generations.; Be The Change Workshop; An Online Peace Education Experience; What's in the Workshop; For Individual License; Host a Group Screening of the Workshop; Testimonials of Workshop Participants; Capt. Jon Pinto; Ruben Cantu; Mayor John Tecklenburg; #BeTheChange; #IStandForPeace; Sign up to host your Peace Event

Paragraphs: Duration: 1 Hour; $50; Experience the program and find peace within.; You can watch the workshop with your family and have a discussion on peace, nonviolence and wellbeing.; Feel inspired to get the group license and bring the program in your team or at your workplace.; Spread Peace by hosting the screening in your community and/or organization e.g.; With the group license, you will also receive a facilitation guide to help moderate a discussion with the participants on peace and mental wellbeing.; (Los Angeles Police Department); (Social Activist, Austin); (Charleston, South Carolina); ; Where does my money go?; Where Funds raised through the sale of the workshop go towards Peace projects undertaken by Cities4Peace, an initiative of the non-profit International Association for Human Values (IAHV).;

Scraped text from their history page of their website: Titles: NA

Headings: NA

Paragraphs: NA

Summaries of Links: Cities4Peace appears to be an organization dedicated to promoting peace and harmony in cities around the world. It has a presence in various locations, including Los Angeles, LA County, Pomona, Orange County, Washington DC, Salvador, Brazil, and Cyprus. The organization offers programs such as the Ambassadors of Peace Program, Sky Mindful Leadership, and Be the Change, which aim to empower individuals to become agents of peace in their communities. Cities4Peace also collaborates with other organizations such as the Art of Living, the Listen First Project, and the National Conversation Project to further its mission of fostering peaceful coexistence. Additionally, the organization has a strong online presence with social media accounts and a website available in multiple languages, suggesting its commitment to reaching a global audience."""