

""Twitter handle (and profile name): network_win (WIN Network)

Twitter description: The Well Being In the Nation (WIN) Network brings together national partners and communities to advance inter-generational well-being for everyone.

Description of the organization from a third party source: "The Well Being In the Nation (WIN) Network is a learning and action network of organizations and communities advancing well-being and equity by expanding the vital conditions everyone needs to thrive. WIN Network partners believe that, together, we can secure intergenerational well-being for all."

Scraped text from their home page of their website: Titles: What is WIN? - WIN NETWORK

Headings: How WIN Came to Be; THE WIN NETWORK; The WIN Network is a growing strategic network working together to advance intergenerational well-being and equity.; Join our WIN Network newsletter to receive updates about upcoming events, webinars, reports, and more!; QUICK LINKS; WIN PartnersMeasurement & LearningCooperativesWIN PrinciplesWIN Theory of ChangeVital ConditionsIn The NewsCOVID ResponseJoin; (C) 2023 Well Being In The Nation-The WIN NetworkAll Rights Reserved. Site design by Orange Custard

Paragraphs: The WELL BEING IN THE NATION (WIN) NETWORK is a growing strategic network working together to advance intergenerational well-being and equity.; Why WIN Exists; WIN begins with a recognition that the legacies of the past and the policies, structures, and beliefs we choose to live with shape our current reality. Some of these have led to well-being, dignity, and inclusion. Others, such as our legacy of slavery and structural racism continue to perpetuate trauma, poor health, and exclusion. These past legacies of exclusion affect communities across the country today. They trap a hundred million people to participate, prosper, and reach their full potential.; This is a legacy moment in our nation. It is our obligation to make decisions today that will expand the vital conditions of health and well-being. In doing so, we will move toward a thriving, interconnected, more equitable world today and over generations. This is why WIN exists.; WIN grew out of the confluence of several streams;; The Well-Being Initiative for the Nation, led by Samueli Institute, charted a path for measures, policies, investments and infrastructure to improve health and well-being in the nation. The Well Being Legacy initiative, led by Well Being Trust, outlined a set of conditions for people to thrive. These vital conditions arose from dialogues with 1000+ community residents and a 200 person gathering in July 2018.; The Well Being In the Nation (WIN) measures, were released in June 2019 as our first common measures for community health and well-being. Over 100 communities, national organizations, and federal agencies worked together to identify these common measures, supported by 100

Million Healthier Lives. The well-being of people, well-being of places, and equity frame these multi-sector measures. Having common measures was a first step to improving the nation's well-being. These organizations and communities wanted to form a network to advance these measures.

Scraped text from their about page of their website: Titles: NA

Headings: NA

Paragraphs: NA

Scraped text from their mission page of their website: Titles: NA

Headings: NA

Paragraphs: NA

Scraped text from their history page of their website: Titles: NA

Headings: NA

Paragraphs: NA

Summaries of Links: Based solely on the information provided, it can be inferred that this organization is focused on promoting well-being and equity. The presence of sections such as "equitable policies," "racial justice," and "measurement-learning" suggests that the organization is committed to addressing social and economic disparities. The inclusion of links to social media platforms and a join/donate page indicates that the organization is actively seeking engagement and support from the public. Additionally, the mention of "WIN measures" and "WIN principles" suggests that the organization has a structured approach to measuring and achieving its goals. While the specific nature of the organization's work cannot be determined from the provided information, it is evident that they prioritize well-being, equity, and collaboration. ""