Twitter description: Maryland United for Peace and Justice Network- Statewide Organizations. Bringing Peace and Justice since 1985

Description of the organization from a third party source: "Maryland United for Peace and Justice (MUPJ) was formed in 1987 as a statewide Maryland network and coalition of peace and justice organizations and individuals. We hold educational and skills building workshops in order to empower groups and activists to create peace, justice, a healthy environment and democracy. MUPJ has organized statewide peace and justice conferences and workshops on peace issues and actions people can take. In 2017, we held a Summit of Maryland peace organizations during which representatives of organizations chose priority issues to work together on in 2018."

Paragraphs: Network for Statewide Organizations; Since its founding in 1985, Maryland United for Peace and Justice (MUPJ) has provided networking, communication and support to groups and individuals working in Maryland towards a world with lasting peace, social justice and a sustainable environment.; MUPJ, a 501(c)(4) corporation, is a statewide organization that connects groups and individuals working for peace, justice, and a safe environment. MUPJ's goal is cooperation among peace, justice and environmental groups for the purposes of mutual support and more effective coordinated actions.; MUPJ was started following a statewide call to Maryland peace groups in the fall of 1985 by Jesse Aiken, a Maryland peace activist. It was agreed that the groups wanted a monthly calendar of events, a state resource guide, and a yearly peace and justice conference. Our first statewide conference was held in April 1986. MUPJ, Inc. was formed to address the need for greater coordination, networking and communication among the many groups and individuals concerned with peace and justice, as well as the annual conference and the calendar of events.; MD United for Peace and Justice-Institute for Positive Action (MUPJ-IPA) is a non-profit 501(c)(3) with the purpose of education and information concerning current issues of importance to those working for peace and justice. Tax-deductible donations can be made to the MUPJ Institute for Positive Action at the address on the front.; We conducted the annual Peace, Justice and Environment Conference, rotating its location around the state. We now offer workshops on a variety of subjects every quarter and hold Summits which connect and empower groups and individuals working on peace, justice and environment issues.; The organizations listed below carry out a wide range of activities to bring about progressive change in our state and many also participate in and/or support MUPJ activities. "S" indicates groups that participated in the November 2014 MUPJ Summit and "C" indicates co-sponsors of the May 2015 MUPJ Conference.* (If we inadvertently omitted your group from this list, please let our co-webmaster know: rdbtenor@gmail.com;

of coalitions and organizations including the World Peace Prayer Society co-sponsored a day-long vigil for the International Day of Peace at the Tillman Chapel in the Church Center across the street from the United Nations on 21 September.; ; The event was entitled, "The Quest for a Just and Sustainable Peace," with a keynote address on "A Tale of Two 70s: The 70th Anniversary of the Founding of the United Nations and the Hiroshima/Nagasaki Atomic Bombing." The winning artwork of the 2015 Peace Pals Art Exhibition with the theme "Love to Hiroshima-Love to Nagasaki" was on display throughout the day.; ; The Chaplain for the Church Center, which is run by the United Methodist Women, is Rev. Dionne Boissiere. She now has her own desktop Peace Pole, which she placed in a special area where those in attendance could write their prayers on a ribbon to post on a board. The Chapel was filled with prayers for peace all day long. Rev. Boissiere also put out a call to churches to ring their bells at 12 noon and for everyone to Tweet, #MayPeacePrevailOnEarth!; ; The World Peace Prayer Society held a World Peace Prayer Ceremony with the flags of all nations at 3:00, following the hourly Minute of Silence, accompanied by the Society's Peace Bell made of recycled weapons of war. The flags has been raised that morning by students at the bell ringing ceremony by the Secretary-General of the United Nations. Now each one was presented in turn as everyone sent a prayer for peace to prevail in each country of the world in turn, accompanied by the transcendent music of the World Peace Violin.; ; Many special friends of the World Peace Prayer Society took part in the prayers, including Andrew Benson Greene of Sierra Leone, who has long worked with Bockarie Enssah, our Peace Representative there. He is an accomplished poet, who has written a book of poetry called "The Peace Pole."; ; This heartfelt call to peace from the United Nations was surely felt around the world.
