

""Twitter handle (and profile name): PeaceEdProgram (Peace Ed)

Twitter description: For 35 years Peace Education Program has strengthened the community by training youth & adults on conflict resolution, peer mediation, and prejudice reduction.

Description of the organization from a third party source: "In 1985, Peace Education Program started by teaching conflict resolution in one classroom. Today, they have a network of 88 schools where mediation and/or conflict resolution is practiced on a daily basis. Peace Education Program impacts 20,000 youths annually. In 2008 Peace Ed created a comprehensive mediation manual. Today, trainers in Rwanda, Marquette University, Wisconsin, New-York, Indiana and Kentucky follow their methods for training peace mediators. "

Scraped text from their home page of their website: Titles: Peace Education Program - Teaching conflict resolution to youth

Headings: OUR MISSION; Our Services; Resolving Conflict Peacefully; Navigators; Pivot to Peace; Workshops; ABOUT US; Giving Youth More Than A Fighting Chance Since 1982; Our Stories; Collaborative Professional Development Workshop with Rwandan Guest David and Rachel; Wrapping Up A Record-Breaking Summer; Laura Younkin Working For The Greater Good; Meet Our Director; Rose M. Livingston; Contact Us

Paragraphs: The Peace Education Program strengthens communities and schools by training youth and adults to build and sustain positive relationships. We do this by providing learning experiences to reduce violence, enhance personal integrity and foster mutual respect. We teach conflict resolution, peer mediation and prejudice reduction.; The Navigators is a mentoring program that focuses on helping young men who need extra guidance navigating life's natural conflicts and gives them practical skills.; Peace Ed's Pivot to Peace program is for survivors of stabbings and gunshot injuries, as well as those living at a high risk of violence.; Peace Education Program offers professional development workshops for youth workers and educators at our site. Many of these programs can be customized for off-site workshops as well.; It all started In 1982 when Peace Education Program taught conflict resolution in one classroom, in one school. Today we have a network of 88 schools in Jefferson County where mediation and/or conflict resolution is practiced every day. Today we impact 20,000 youths annually.; David Bucura and Rachel Bugenimana joined forces with the Peace Education Programming Team and the dedicated staff of Auburndale Elementary, including [...]; The Peace Education Program wraps up a record-breaking summer from the last several years, with services provided at thirteen sites including Evolve502. [...]; Some people look forward to the slowing down that comes with retirement, but Laura Younkin, a trainer/educator with Peace Education who spent

[...]; Rose M. Livingston has served Peace Education Program since October 2021. She brings over 20 years of education experience to this role. She served as an assistant principal and teacher in Jefferson County Public Schools, where she saw firsthand how students benefit from Peace Education Program Inc.'s conflict resolution and peer mediation instruction. She served as a commissioner on the Louisville Metro Housing Authority Board for seven years, a role that contributed to her success in developing The Beech, a comprehensive learning center at Beecher Terrace that brought together various collaborators, including Ballard High School, Louisville Metro Housing, Jefferson County Public Schools, and Operation Brightside.; ; (C) 2024 Â· Peace Education Program

Scraped text from their about page of their website: Titles: About - Peace Education Program

Headings: About

Paragraphs: Resolving Conflict Peacefully; 42 Years of Giving Youth More Than A Fighting Chance; It all started In 1982 when Peace Education Program taught conflict resolution in one classroom, in one school. Today we have a network of 88 schools in Jefferson County where mediation and/or conflict resolution is practiced every day. Today we impact 20,000 youths annually.; In 1999 Peace Ed introduced whole school conflict resolution and peer mediation to our first middle school. Today, those programs have helped students at 88 schools resolve their and their fellow students' conflicts peacefully.; In 1994, we began a partnership with a middle school with high levels of violence - students were "body slamming" each other in the hallways. Today, youth mediators conduct 200 mediations for their peers annually. The commitment of the adult coordinator and the skills taught to youth combine to create a culture of peace in a sea of violence.; In 1992, we formed "Youth for Peace" - a youth program for teen leaders committed to reducing prejudice. Today, "Youth for Peace" graduates are leaders in conflict resolution community development, education, and fundraising in Metro Louisville and beyond.; In 1995, Louisville's youth homicide rate was one of the highest in the nation. Peace Education joined a coalition to stop the violence. We trained 400 gang involved youth and their friends to be mediators in seven Housing Authority sites. Today there are sixty-seven community sites where young people can solve their problems nonviolently.; ; (C) 2024 Â· Peace Education Program

Scraped text from their mission page of their website: Titles: NA

Headings: NA

Paragraphs: NA

Scraped text from their history page of their website: Titles: NA

Headings: NA

Paragraphs: NA

Summaries of Links: Based solely on the provided information, it can be inferred that this organization is dedicated to promoting peace education. The presence of web pages focused on preschool, elementary, middle school, and high school programs suggests that the organization caters to a wide range of age groups. The inclusion of sections such as "Youth Program," "Peacecasters," "Navigators," and "Pivot to Peace" indicates a comprehensive approach to peace education, encompassing various initiatives and resources. Additionally, the organization appears to offer workshops, professional development opportunities, and collaborative projects, highlighting its commitment to empowering individuals and communities in fostering peace. The mention of a newsletter, contact information, and a donation page suggests that the organization values communication with its audience and relies on external support for its activities. Overall, the information provided points towards an organization actively engaged in promoting peace education through diverse programs, resources, and initiatives."""