

""Twitter handle (and profile name): theCKgroup (Common Knowledge)

Twitter description: The mission of Common Knowledge is to expand community engagement, using community insights for a more inclusive and innovative society.

Description of the organization from a third party source: "Susan Stuart Clark founded Common Knowledge to demonstrate more inclusive and innovative approaches to achieving preferred public outcomes. She helps cities and counties broaden participation in local decision-making on complex issues such as shared services. Common Knowledge is a team of skilled community and civic engagement practitioners from a mix of disciplines dedicated to a culturally competent communications and collaborative process. Our work is done through a mix of carefully selected client projects and grant-funded programs all contributing to our ability to deliver more inclusive and innovative approaches to community capacity and well-being."

Scraped text from their home page of their website: Titles: Home & Common Knowledge

Headings: The next generation of community engagement.; Communicating in your local Comm universe; Learning together in Burlingame for affordable workforce housing; Constructive engagement about rental housing policies in Redwood City

Paragraphs: ; Common Knowledge facilitates powerful new connections across sectors, silos, and social divides that generate forward momentum on broadly shared priorities. We help local communities listen together and learn together, developing deeper understanding and effective relationships for sustained progress. Every project shows that greater inclusion leads to greater innovation. Connect with us to learn more.; If you are a local public agency, nonprofit or business leader, how do you think about the people who live in your area? Are they voters? Donors? Customers of your product? Of a service? Volunteers? [...]; It was a pleasure to reconnect with the City of Burlingame this year, our first partner in San Mateo County's Home for All Community Engagement Learning Network. Together in 2018 we piloted a redesign of [...]; For communities throughout California, the question of how to meet affordable housing needs is a perennial challenge. And the pandemic has heightened tensions around landlords and tenants. Through our work with Home for All and [...]

Scraped text from their about page of their website: Titles: ABOUT US & Common Knowledge

Headings: ABOUT US; About Common Knowledge; Who We Are; Our Clients; Partners; Public Agencies & Libraries; Civic Engagement Organizations; Non-Profits & Education

Paragraphs: Under the leadership of Susan Clark, Common Knowledge has assembled skilled community and civic engagement practitioners from a mix of disciplines dedicated to culturally competent communications and collaborative process. Our work is done through a mix of carefully selected client projects and grant-funded programs - all contributing to our ability to deliver more inclusive and innovative approaches to community capacity and well-being.; Click here to see our team member profiles.; We are deeply grateful to the following long-term clients and relationships that provide Common Knowledge with friendly "testing grounds" for community engagement and/or are collaborators in reflection about our work.

Scraped text from their mission page of their website: Titles: NA

Headings: NA

Paragraphs: NA

Scraped text from their history page of their website: Titles: NA

Headings: NA

Paragraphs: NA

Summaries of Links: Based solely on the provided information, it can be inferred that this organization is called CK Group, and it has a website at ckgroup.org. The organization likely offers services, has clients, and publishes insights, blogs, and information about itself, its team, and its contact information. It also has social media accounts on Twitter and YouTube. However, the specific nature of the organization's activities or its mission cannot be determined from the provided information. ""