

""Twitter handle (and profile name): fionamorgan (Fiona Morgan)

Twitter description: I build stronger local news & information ecosystems at Branchhead Consulting. @fionamorgan@mastodon.online

Description of the organization from a third party source: "As Journalism Program Director of the national nonprofit organization Free Press, Fiona works to engage the public in reinventing local news. She directs News Voices: North Carolina, an engagement program connects newsrooms to the communities they serve through dialogue and collaboration. Prior to joining Free Press, she was a reporter and editor for more than 10 years. She holds a Master of Public Policy degree from Duke."

Scraped text from their home page of their website: Titles: Home | Free Press; Free Press; Free Press; Facebook; Twitter; Instagram; Actions; icn_$0; icn_activistsStrong; Facebook; Twitter; Instagram

Headings: Free Press; Join Us; Get updates;; Connect with us;; What's at Stake; Free & Open Internet; Free Press and the History of the Net Neutrality Fight; Future of Journalism; Free Press Applauds Major New Investment in the Future of Civic Media; Media Control; The Media Must Atone for Enabling Trump's Fascism; Media & Platform Accountability; Big Tech Backslide: How Social-Media Rollbacks Endanger Democracy Ahead of the 2024 Elections; Privacy & Surveillance; Free Press Action Releases Report 'Insatiable: The Tech Industry's Quest for All Our Data'; Why Free Press?; How Can I Help?; Urge the FCC to Reinstate Title II and Net Neutrality; Urge Congress to Fund the Affordable Connectivity Program; Tell Congress: Unregulated Social-Media Platforms Threaten Our Democracy; Tell Univision to Keep Dishonesty Out of the News; News; Disinformation Poses an Unprecedented Threat in 2024 - and the U.S. Is Less Ready Than Ever; Free Press Again Urges the FCC to Restore Title II Oversight and Safeguard an Open Internet; Can Elon Musk Blow Up Your Right to Join a Union?; Free Press Action Praises New Bill That Would Prevent ACP Funding Lapse Paragraphs: We respect your privacy; Thanks for signing up!; Media and technology are essential to our democracy.; We fight to ensure they're used for justice.; as we challenge powerful corporations, hold policymakers accountable and mobilize millions.; We respect your privacy; Thanks for signing up!; We respect your privacy; Thanks for signing up!

Scraped text from their about page of their website: Titles: About | Free Press; Free Press; Free Press; Home; Facebook; Twitter; Facebook; Twitter; Instagram; Facebook; Twitter; Instagram

Headings: Breadcrumbs; About; We seek to change the media to transform democracy to realize a just society.; Staff; Board; Financials; Jobs; Internships & Fellowships; Join Us; Get updates;; Connect with us;; How Can I Help?; Urge the FCC to Reinstate Title II and Net

Neutrality; Urge Congress to Fund the Affordable Connectivity Program; Tell Congress: Unregulated Social-Media Platforms Threaten Our Democracy; Tell Univision to Keep Dishonesty Out of the News; News; Growing Number of Apps Help Automate Pro-Israel Activism Online; FCC Decision to Require Mandatory Reporting on Communications-Network Outages Will Help Save Lives; WRHU Q&A with Vanessa Maria Graber; California's Ethnic Media Struggles to Survive Local-News Crisis

Paragraphs: We respect your privacy; Thanks for signing up!; Free Press was created to give people a voice in the crucial decisions that shape our media.; We believe that positive social change, racial justice and meaningful engagement in public life require equitable access to technology, diverse and independent ownership of media platforms, and journalism that holds leaders accountable and tells people what's actually happening in their communities.; Since Free Press was founded in 2003, the media landscape has changed dramatically. Media and technology are now intertwined in our daily lives, vital to the health of our communities, and essential to a functioning democracy. We believe the fight for racial justice must be at the center of transforming our media and our democracy.; Media and technology can be used to oppress people - or to liberate them. We focus on these powerful platforms and tools because they have an outsized influence not just on our political system but on the kind of society we will have and the lives we will lead.; Free Press closely watches as the decisions shaping the media landscape are made and sounds the alarm when people's rights to connect and communicate are in danger. We focus on saving Net Neutrality, achieving affordable internet access for all, uplifting the voices of people of color in the media, challenging old and new media gatekeepers to serve the public interest, ending unwarranted surveillance, defending press freedom and reimagining local journalism.; Through activism and advocacy on all these issues and more, we work to challenge powerful corporations, influence policymakers, raise public awareness and mobilize millions. We invite people to envision what a transformed media could look like and how technology could improve their lives - and then we fight alongside them to make it happen.; Check out this timeline showing milestones from Free Press' history.; Free Press (501c3) and Free Press Action Fund (501c4) are two separate, autonomous and interrelated organizations. Both organizations are completely independent: We don't take money from business, government or political parties and rely on the generosity of charitable foundations and individual donors to fuel our work.; Our dynamic team is a mix of organizers, campaigners, advocates, lawyers, researchers, digital communicators, fundraisers and administrators. We use grassroots campaigns, groundbreaking research and direct advocacy to fight for your rights to connect and communicate.; Free Press and Free Press Action are independent, interrelated and autonomous organizations. Each is governed by a board of directors. Directors serve as volunteers and work together as a policymaking body.; Free Press is completely independent: We don't take a single cent from business, government or political parties and rely on the generosity of individual donors and charitable foundations to fuel our work. Check out our annual reports, impact reports and audited financials.; Our team is a mix of committed organizers, campaigners, policy experts, digital communicators, administrators and fundraisers. We're committed to recruiting and retaining creative, ethical, smart and innovative people. We offer competitive salaries and excellent benefits. Come work with us!; Are you a student looking to save Net Neutrality, transform local journalism, defend press freedom and fight for affordable internet access? Check out our internship and fellowship programs.; as we challenge powerful corporations, hold policymakers accountable and mobilize millions.; We respect your privacy; Thanks for signing up!; We respect your privacy; Thanks for signing up!

Scraped text from their mission page of their website: Titles: NA

Headings: NA

Paragraphs: NA

Scraped text from their history page of their website: Titles: NA

Headings: NA

Paragraphs: NA

Summaries of Links: Based on the provided information, it can be inferred that this organization is focused on advocating for free and open internet access, media platform accountability, future journalism, media control, and privacy surveillance. They provide various ways for individuals to get involved, such as signing petitions, joining events, planning district meetings, volunteering in the field, and utilizing activist tools. The organization also has a blog, news section, and policy library to inform and educate the public on these issues. Additionally, they offer opportunities for employment, internships, and fellowships. The organization's financial information, staff, board members, and contact information are also available on their website.""