

""Twitter handle (and profile name): PBProject (The Participatory Budgeting Project)

Twitter description: Nonprofit organization that empowers people to decide together how to spend public money, via #ParticipatoryBudgeting. RT    endorsement.

Description of the organization from a third party source: "The Participatory Budgeting Project is an organization that empowers people to decide together how to spend public money. They create and support participatory budgeting processes that deepen democracy and make public budgets more equitable and effective."

Scraped text from their home page of their website: Titles: Learn About PB - Participatory Budgeting Project

Headings: Learn about PB; What is participatory budgeting?; See the latest updates from the field; Looking for resources to dig deeper?; What is PB?; Where is PB happening?; PB Impacts; Doing participatory budgeting (PB) sparks a variety of powerful, lasting impacts across a community.; Welcome to our new website!

Paragraphs: Participatory budgeting (PB) is a democratic process in which community members decide how to spend part of a public budget. It gives people real power over real money.; PB started in Porto Alegre, Brazil, in 1989, as an anti-poverty measure that helped reduce child mortality by nearly 20%. Since then PB has spread to over 7,000 cities around the world, and has been used to decide budgets from states, counties, cities, housing authorities, schools, and other institutions.; The New York Times calls PB "revolutionary civics in action"- it deepens democracy, builds stronger communities, and creates a more equitable distribution of public resources.; PBP has worked directly with civic leaders in dozens of cities and institutions in the US and Canada to plan and run PB processes, and our work has inspired dozens more processes. Click here or see below for a map of where PB is happening and for more detailed profiles of a few key processes.; The "widgets" located to the right of the map allow you to visualize different classes of data.; The map is linked to the database that PBP maintains to try to track every PB process in the U.S. and Canada. Inevitably some PB processes aren't on our radar. If you know that PB exists somewhere not seen on our map, or you have additional data about a PB process, please fill out this form to let us know!; Stronger civil society;; New community leaders;; More equitable and effective public spending;; Engaging Communities and Deepening Democracy; Explore; Join our newsletter!; We'd love to know here how things are going with your visit and your thoughts about our new design.; You can close this window and come back to it at any time by clicking the button at the bottom of the site.

Scraped text from their about page of their website: Titles: About - Participatory Budgeting Project

Headings: Who We Are; Our Mission; Vision; Values; Our Story; A Brief Timeline; Participatory Budgeting (PB) is developed; Participatory Budgeting Project (PBP) Launches; PBP Grows; North American Research Board Established; Infrastructure changes at PBP; Changes in Leadership; Strengthening our Mission; More to come; Strategic Framework; Annual Reports; Welcome to our new website!

Paragraphs: The Participatory Budgeting Project (PBP) works with communities across the US and Canada to decide together how to best spend public money. We create and support participatory budgeting (PB) processes that deepen democracy, build stronger communities, and make public budgets more equitable and effective. Since 2009, PBP has collaborated with grassroots and government partners to launch PB processes in over 40 cities, empowering more than 739,000 people to directly decide how to spend over $400 million in public funds.; The Participatory Budgeting Project (PBP) believes that another way of governance is possible and essential, which is why PBP collaboratively transforms democracy to center community power. We do this by collaborating with local partners on participatory processes that put real power over real budgets, policies, and decisions in the hands of the communities they impact; We are rooted in our values in order to transform and expand democracy: _x000D_

â€¢ Equity & Racial Equity _x000D_

â€¢ Transparency & Accessibility _x000D_

â€¢ Support & Experimentation; Originating in Porto Alegre, Brazil in 1989, PB has now spread to multiple cities across the U.S. and Canada.; We launched with a vision to bring PB to North America and to support the first ever PB process in the United States in Chicago. We worked with local partners and an alderman to invest $1,000,000 in the 49th ward. With the success of our work there, PBP worked to expand PB practice across the US and Canada, expanding to hundreds of processes over the next decade. These included the first ever process in New York City - which grew from a handful of districts to over 30 - and Vallejo, the nation's first citywide process, followed by Boston's citywide youth-focused process.; We had 8 staff and began to focus on expanding PB, while also building out internal infrastructure and operational processes to support our growing team, based across the US.; Making PBP a leader implementing PB, creating Key Performance Indicators, and releasing research to make this work more accessible and clear.; We transitioned from a regionally focused model to a functional work area set up, allowing us to focus on delineating between our advocacy and our implementation support services. Shari Davis joined Josh Lerner as Co-Executive Director.; In 2020-21, our founding ED Josh Lerner transitioned out of the organization and our team transitioned to a sociocratically organized team and adopted a new co-leadership structure with three Co-Executive Directors, Shari Davis, Kristina Bank and Kristania De Leon. This model allows PBP to live our values and engage in building the capacity of our team's leadership to take on projects and ideas that move our mission forward.; We expanded our mission in our multi-year strategic plan to match our expanding commitment to participatory democracy. PBP's new mission is to collaboratively transform democracy to center community power. Our work reconnects government with citizens by engaging communities in real power over real public decisions.; Over the past 13 years, PBP has partnered with hundreds of organizations to learn about, advocate for, implement and iterate participatory budgeting in cities across the United States and Canada, helping over 740,000 people to directly decide how to spend $400 million in public funds. We have supported 85% of PB processes nationwide.; We recognize that the transformative impact of community members having a say on the issues that impact their lives doesn't end with budgets-that's why we have expanded our focus to strengthening participatory democracy, by building more demand and capacity for community-led decision-making.; Our commitment to advocating for and supporting community-led decision-making rooted in equity, accessibility, and significance, is embodied in our Democracy Beyond Elections coalition and campaign, an initiative that we anchor and manage.; This is the strategic decision-making framework that will guide PBP's future, outlining our vision and the mission / goals we have determined will best help us fulfill our vision. At the foundation of this diagram are the concrete strategies and tactics-the PBP tools-we use to achieve these goals. At the heart of every project we undertake is centering equity in participatory democracy & participatory budgeting implementation. All of our programs use these strategies and tactics, and we use this framework to measure current, and future programs against, to ensure we're working toward forwarding our mission & vision.; Vision; PBP collaboratively transforms democracy to center community power.; VALUES_x000D_

Equity & Racial Equity_x000D_

Transparency & Accessibility_x000D_

Support & Experimentation; Mission/ Goals; Build capacity to implement participatory democratic processes; Convene communities of practice & learning; Strategies; Build capacity to implement participatory democratic processes; Convene communities of practice & learning; Design & share research & evaluation; Tactics; Provide technical assistance; Create resources & tools; Convene communities of practice & learning; Design & share research & evaluation; Model participatory operations; Shift narrative to center "good PD"; Vision; PBP collaboratively transforms democracy to center community power.; VALUES_x000D_

Equity & Racial Equity_x000D_

Transparency & Accessibility_x000D_

Support & Experimentation; Mission/ Goals; Build capacity to implement participatory democratic processes; Convene communities of practice & learning; Strategies; Build capacity to implement participatory democratic processes; Convene communities of practice & learning; Design & share research & evaluation; Tactics;

Provide technical assistance; Create resources & tools; Convene communities of practice & learning; Design & share research & evaluation; Model participatory operations; Shift narrative to center "good PD"; Since 2009, PBP has been working with communities across the U.S. and Canada to expand democracy, shift power, and engage in participatory democracy. Explore our annual reports to see where we've been and how far we've come, and to get geared up for what's to come!; Engaging Communities and Deepening Democracy; Explore; Join our newsletter!; We'd love to know here how things are going with your visit and your thoughts about our new design.; You can close this window and come back to it at any time by clicking the button at the bottom of the site.

Scraped text from their mission page of their website: Titles: NA

Headings: NA

Paragraphs: NA

Scraped text from their history page of their website: Titles: NA

Headings: NA

Paragraphs: NA

Summaries of Links: Based solely on the provided information, it can be inferred that this organization is likely focused on promoting and implementing participatory budgeting, a process that enables citizens to directly participate in making decisions about how public funds are allocated. The organization's website includes information about participatory budgeting, its benefits, and how to implement it. Additionally, the organization offers resources such as toolkits, guides, and case studies to support individuals and communities interested in adopting participatory budgeting. The organization also has a presence on social media platforms, which suggests that it actively engages with its audience and promotes its mission. While the specific details about the organization's structure, funding, and impact cannot be determined from the provided information, it is evident that the organization is dedicated to empowering citizens through participatory budgeting.""