

""Twitter handle (and profile name): PeaceIowa (PEACE Iowa)

Twitter description: Promoting international peace through education, intercultural communication, public witness, citizen involvement, and personal choices in Eastern Iowa.

Description of the organization from a third party source: "Peace Iowa is a grassroots organization supported by many individuals and local groups in eastern Iowa. Our visions are to: 1) Connect eastern Iowans to people affected by violent conflicts around the world, in order to hear first-hand experiences; perspectives, and needs. 2) Make visible the way of peace. Increase awareness of the presence of peace-minded individuals and groups in eastern Iowa, and support their endeavors. 3) Facilitate community, common purpose, and cooperative action among diverse peace-oriented groups. Draw from the peace traditions of many faiths and from secular movements promoting peace. 4) Inspire and educate future generations of peacemakers. 5) Foster communication between eastern Iowans and ordinary people in nations and groups labeled our "enemies." 6) Serve as a resource for individuals who want to learn about historical peace traditions and movements. 7) Educate ourselves and others about the links between war and political, social, and economic practices. 8) Provide resources to help eastern Iowans make personal choices that decrease the likelihood of war and promote international peace. "

Scraped text from their home page of their website: Titles: PEACE Iowa

Headings: PEACE Iowa; Peace Education and Action Center of Eastern Iowa; STAND UP FOR PEACE!; Peaceful Protest Guidelines; Solidarity with Palestinians and Jews

Paragraphs: Peace Education and Action Center of Eastern Iowa; ; Promoting international peace through education, intercultural communication, public witness, citizen involvement, and personal choices; ; Peace in the Middle East, peace everywhere_x000D_

Fridays 3:30 to 4:30 pm at the intersection of Iowa Avenue and Clinton Street on the University of Iowa Pentacrest in Iowa City; This weekly gathering has been going on for years and welcomes participants who want to stand up for peace anywhere in the world. In the past few months, this weekly gathering has focused on advocating for peace in Gaza and has been joined by many UI students and others from Iowans for Palestine, Students for Justice in Palestine Iowa City, and Eastern Iowa Jewish Voice for Peace.; Give 10 minutes or an hour, but ADVOCATE for Peace and Justice. There will be handouts and signs, AND, invite a friend to join you, maybe someone who has never done this.; Sponsored by Veterans for Peace #161 and PEACE Iowa.; ; Conduct and Participation;; Use De-escalation Strategies;; ; This statement was authored by;; Jonathan Kuttub, Palestinian Christian Theologian, Human Rights Lawyer, FOSNA and Nonviolence International; Rabbi Michael Lerner, Editor of Tikkun magazine; Rabbi Cat Zavis, Beyt Tikkun: A Synagogue without Walls, Civil/Women's Rights Lawyer, and Mediator; Rabbi Esther Azar, Arab Jewish Trauma Activist, and Rabbi:

Trauma Informed Rabbis; This statement is written and signed by Palestinians, Jews, and others who are committed to holding complex truths and striving to overcome polarization. We feel the pain of our people, identify with their pain, and need to work together to uplift our shared humanity.; The unfolding horror in Israel and Gaza is an escalation of decades of state-sanctioned violence by Israel against Palestinians. We condemn the horrific actions of Hamas against Israeli civilians. We likewise condemn Israel's unbridled bombing and cutting off access to all basic needs, including food, water, electricity, and medical care. Attacks on Palestinian and Israeli civilians are repugnant.; Israeli violence against Palestinians has been intentionally hidden, slow, and steady. Contrary to what the media is reporting, this attack was not unprovoked. The Israeli and American governments have worked together to suppress and deny the inhumane acts against Palestinians that have led to this moment. There are Palestinians and Jews who have been raising red flags and warning about this inevitable outcome for decades, only to be dismissed and ignored.; The world's failure to challenge Israel's ongoing occupation, apartheid, and unbridled violence by settlers and soldiers in the West Bank provides the context for what is happening now. The recent Israeli government's escalation of violence, encroachment of Al Aqsa Mosque, and its 16-year siege of Gaza has led to the current explosion.; We repeat: the brutality of Hamas' attack on Israeli civilians is unjustified.; As we watch the violent attacks and rallying of xenophobia on both sides, we are brokenhearted. Although it feels like a time to stand with "our people," we know this is a time to come together. This is a time of great suffering for all; a time of painful emotions. It is only by recognizing our shared fears and our shared tears that we will find our way through this nightmare. It is a struggle we need to undertake jointly.; When we fall back into our separate and distinct identities we risk becoming part of the problem, not the solution. Both peoples suffer from ongoing trauma. We are all on high alert. The fear is palpable. And it is easy for us to objectify the 'other.'; We seek a third path that neither perpetuates a xenophobic response nor sustains an unjust status quo. This moment calls us to slow down, sit with the pain and complexity, and grapple with our discomfort. It is a moment for digging deep, seeing across differences, and remembering our deep yearning for peace and justice. It is only through compassion and empathy that we will find a different way.; ;

Scraped text from their about page of their website: Titles: About PEACE Iowa

Headings: About PEACE Iowa

Paragraphs: Peace Education and Action Center of Eastern Iowa; ; ; Make visible the way of peace. Increase awareness of the presence of peace-minded individuals and groups in eastern Iowa, and support their endeavors.; Facilitate community, common purpose, and cooperative action among diverse peace-oriented groups. Draw from the peace traditions of many faiths and from secular movements promoting peace.; Inspire and educate future generations of peacemakers.; Connect eastern Iowans to people affected by violent conflicts around the world, in order to hear first-hand their experiences, perspectives, and needs.; Foster communication between eastern Iowans and ordinary people in nations and groups labeled our "enemies."; Serve as a resource for individuals who want to learn about historical peace traditions and movements.; Educate ourselves and others about the links between war and political, social, and economic practices.; Provide resources to help eastern Iowans make personal choices that decrease the likelihood of war and promote international peace.;

Scraped text from their mission page of their website: Titles: NA

Headings: NA

Paragraphs: NA

Scraped text from their history page of their website: Titles: NA

Headings: NA

Paragraphs: NA

Summaries of Links: Based solely on the information provided, it can be inferred that this organization is likely involved in promoting peace and addressing various issues, potentially with a focus on Iran and Iowa. The presence of sections such as "About," "Contact," "Donate," "Events," "Resources," and "Issues" suggests that the organization aims to engage with the public, provide information, and encourage action on specific causes. The inclusion of the "Iran-Iowa Children's Project" indicates a possible focus on fostering connections between Iran and Iowa, particularly in relation to children. The link to Facebook and the mention of a poster related to an event called "Swanson" suggest that the organization utilizes social media and actively organizes events to raise awareness and promote its mission. Without further context or additional information, it is difficult to determine the specific nature of the organization's activities and goals."""