

""Twitter handle (and profile name): GenNation (GenerationNation)

Twitter description: GenerationNation develops a new generation of civic leaders. Civic literacy, civic engagement, and civic leadership for all K-12 students.

Description of the organization from a third party source: "Through GenerationNation, students learn first-hand how their governments and communities work; understand important civic issues and differing points of view; know how to find and use good sources of news and information; build social capital and experience for civic problem-solving and leadership; and, join a diverse network of civic leaders who are working to transform their schools, neighborhoods, communities and world for the betterâ€¦now and for the future."

Scraped text from their home page of their website: Titles: GenerationNation | Developing a new generation of civic leaders

Headings: Developing a new generation of civic leaders.

Paragraphs: Through GenerationNation, students learn first-hand how their governments and communities work; understand and can discuss important civic issues; know how to find and use good sources of news and civic information; and, build social capital, knowledge, and experience to be civic leaders who transform their schools, neighborhoods, communities, and nation for the better...now and for the future.; [custom-twitter-feeds]

Scraped text from their about page of their website: Titles: About GenerationNation | GenerationNation

Headings: About GenerationNation; GenerationNation develops a new generation of civic leaders.

Paragraphs: 2GenerationNation develops a new generation of civic leaders. GenerationNation students build civic literacy, becoming civic leaders who;; Programs; GenerationNation programs combine K-12 education and real-life experiences that help to narrow civic learning gaps, and include Charlotte-Mecklenburg Youth Council, Youth Lead Charlotte-Mecklenburg, Student Advisor to the school board, Kids Lead, civics704, student mock election, K-12 civic literacy curriculum, teacher support, NC Civics Coalition, and other initiatives that build civic literacy and leadership from an early age.; History; GenerationNation is the only Charlotte-based organization providing this service to local K-12 students. Nearly 1 million Charlotte-Mecklenburg students have built and applied civic knowledge and skills through GenerationNation programs. Launched in 1992 by the Charlotte Observer, CMS, and other community stakeholders as a mock election event called Kids Voting, in the early 2000s our organization led local efforts for the NC Civic Index, and with resulting stakeholder feedback and support, our organization expanded our work to become GenerationNation in 2011-12. GenerationNation now works year-round through expanded programming and deeper impact.; Impact; GenerationNation is a recipient of the American Civic Innovation Award and a national leader in K-12 civic education. Charlotte-Mecklenburg annual impact includes;; ; ; ; ; Launched in 1992 by the Charlotte Observer, CMS, and other community stakeholders as a mock election event called Kids Voting, in the early 2000s our organization led local efforts for the NC Civic Index, and with resulting stakeholder feedback and support, our organization expanded our work to become GenerationNation in 2011-12. GenerationNation now works year-round through expanded programming and deeper impact. (The student vote is still one of our programs!)

Scraped text from their mission page of their website: Titles: NA

Headings: NA

Paragraphs: NA

Scraped text from their history page of their website: Titles: NA

Headings: NA

Paragraphs: NA

Summaries of Links: Based solely on the information provided, Generation Nation appears to be an organization dedicated to promoting civic engagement and education among youth. The website includes information about their programs, such as the Youth Council, Youth Lead, and Kids Lead, which aim to empower young people to take an active role in their communities. They also offer resources for educators and volunteers, as well as opportunities for alumni to stay involved. The organization's focus on civics education and youth leadership suggests that they are committed to fostering a new generation of informed and engaged citizens. ""