

""Twitter handle (and profile name): AskBigQs (Ask Big Questions)

Twitter description: Ask Big Questions brings together diverse groups of people on campus for conversations about life's Big Questions.

Description of the organization from a third party source: "Ask Big Questions provides powerful tools to engage diverse participants connecting through reflective conversations to build trust and understanding through communities. We help colleges, universities, and organizations to engage students in reflective conversations that strengthen civic habits of listening, civility, and engaging diverse perspectives."

Scraped text from their home page of their website: Titles: Hillel is Here for You - Hillel International

Headings: Hillel International; Hillel is Here for You; How Hillel is Supporting Jewish Students Today; Hillel Teach-In Tour 2024; Three out of Four Jewish Students Experienced or Witnessed Antisemitism on Campus; Explore Your Heritage with Birthright Israel; Search the College Guide to find a Hillel; Explore Hillel; Celebrating 100 years of hillel; Find the Crew that's Right for You; Work at Hillel and Make Your Mark on the Jewish Future; All Kinds of Jewish Newsletter Sign Up; Hillel International; Quick Links; More Information; Social

Paragraphs: To make this site work properly, we sometimes place small data files called cookies on your device. By choosing to continue to use this site without changing your cookie setting, we will assume that you are consenting to receive cookies.; Hillel is here for Jewish students when they need us most on 850 college and university campuses around the world.; At 850 colleges and universities in the United States, Canada, and 16 countries around the world, Hillel is where Jewish students meet new friends, explore their interests, grab a cup of coffee, celebrate Jewish holidays, and kick back and take a break between classes. You're invited!; Searching for the perfect paid post-grad fellowship to boost your career and impact your community? Learn more about the Springboard Fellowship and apply today.; Antisemitic incidents in the U.S. are at the highest levels on record, and college campuses are not immune from this trend. See how Hillel is making campuses safer spaces for Jewish students.; As antisemitism on campus continues to rise, our global community of students, knowledgeable educators, and passionate Hillel staff are here with and for you. Find resources to support your mental health, safety, and more.; Browse the world's largest collection of scholarships just for Jewish students - more than 600 scholarships, grants, and awards!; You've graduated college, and Hillel is still here for you! Whether you're seeking professional networking and mentoring, career opportunities, or simply schmoozing with other Jewish grads, there's so much more Hillel has to offer.; For 100 years, Hillel has played an indispensable role in ensuring the continuity and strength of the Jewish people. Our professionals, student leaders, and volunteers have sparked generations of connections to Jewish life and commitment to Jewish values. And the first 100 years is only the beginning.; If you think you wouldn't fit in at Hillel, think again. Whether it's a welcome week barbecue, an alternative break volunteer trip, a chocolate seder for Passover, or a place to de-stress before finals, Hillel offers something for every student.; Join our team of 1,200 professionals worldwide committed to pluralistic Jewish life on campus, a diverse workforce, and the values of inclusivity. Whether your specialty is Jewish education, innovation and change, leading organizations, development, or all of the above, come help us shape the Jewish future at Hillel!; Contact Information; ; Established in 1923, Hillel International is the world's largest and most inclusive Jewish campus organization, serving 160,000 college students each year.; (C) 2024 Hillel International; Hillel: The Foundation for Jewish Campus Life is a 501(c)(3) organization, EIN# 52-1844823;

Scraped text from their about page of their website: Titles: About - Hillel International

Headings: Hillel International; About; Our Mission; Our Vision; Our Founding Philosophy; Our Values; Discover the Crew that's Right for You; All Kinds of Jewish Newsletter Sign Up; Hillel International; Quick Links; More Information; Social

Paragraphs: To make this site work properly, we sometimes place small data files called cookies on your device. By choosing to continue to use this site without changing your cookie setting, we will assume that you are consenting to receive cookies.; Get to know Hillel; Hillel was, is, and will always be a space for all kinds of Jewish students - a place where they feel welcomed and included.; Enriching the lives of Jewish students so that they may enrich the Jewish people and the world.; We envision a world where every student is inspired to make an enduring commitment to Jewish life, learning, and Israel.; For 100 years, the Hillel movement has been uniquely focused on serving all kinds of Jewish students, no matter who they are or how they express their Judaism. Today, Hillel is the largest and most inclusive Jewish campus organization in the world, serving more than 160,000 Jewish students each year at 850 colleges and universities around the world. Every day, we strive to bring a spirit of genuine openness and inclusivity into everything we say and do.; There isn't one way to be Jewish. We know that expression of Jewish identity (and identity in general) comes in many forms, and just like no two people are the same, no two Jewish journeys are alike.; At Hillel, all kinds of students are invited and encouraged to bring their whole selves. Whether students keep kosher or have never attended synagogue; whether they want to participate in Shabbat or in a study group; whether they identify as Queer, Black, Ashkenazi, Sephardi, or all of the above. Hillel enables Jewish college students to freely explore what being Jewish in today's world means to them.; To achieve our mission and vision, our work focuses on core facets of Jewish life including Jewish learning, holiday and Shabbat celebration, arts and culture and building a meaningful, ongoing relationship with Israel. Hillel supports students' spiritual growth and wellness, promotes leadership development and empowers students to make an impact on the broader community. Hillel builds relationships that promote understanding among diverse groups, advocates for Jewish students, and strives to ensure a safe and supportive atmosphere on campus.; We welcome every student as their whole self, honoring their unique Jewish journeys as we empower their growth as individuals and Jews.; Authentic relationships grounded in respect and kindness are the foundation of Hillel's work and the basis for facilitating growth, learning and community. Our primary relationship is with students, whom the organization is here to serve. We also value key relationships that advance our mission - with our professional colleagues, our university and organizational partners, and our supporters.; Jewish life at its core is a collective experience, encompassing the multifaceted connections that bind us together as a Jewish people. We are committed to creating diverse, supportive, sustaining communities, in which students and professionals can celebrate, explore, learn, take risks and grow. Our commitment to pluralism is strengthened when these communities are given space for active expression in respectful encounter with one another. Our journeys are personal, distinctive, and unique, but they are not solitary. They do not begin and end with us.; Our work is informed both by our love of the Jewish people and a commitment to be engaged global citizens dedicated to amplifying the good and repairing the broken in the Jewish community and the world.; Hillel is a learning organization. We ground our work in tradition and cultivate a vibrant Judaism attuned to the ever-changing experiences of students in college. The evolving nature of our work requires us to be self-reflective and to work with a spirit of agility and innovation.; Search colleges and universities for all kinds of Jewish experiences; Contact Information; ; Established in 1923, Hillel International is the world's largest and most inclusive Jewish campus organization, serving 160,000 college students each year.; (C) 2024 Hillel International; Hillel: The Foundation for Jewish Campus Life is a 501(c)(3) organization, EIN# 52-1844823;

Scraped text from their mission page of their website: Titles: NA

Headings: NA

Paragraphs: NA

Scraped text from their history page of their website: Titles: History of Hillel - Hillel International

Headings: Hillel International; History of Hillel; Hillel Through the Years; Discover the Crew that's Right for You; All Kinds of Jewish Newsletter Sign Up; Hillel International; Quick Links; More Information; Social

Paragraphs: To make this site work properly, we sometimes place small data files called cookies on your device. By choosing to continue to use this site without changing your cookie setting, we will assume that you are consenting to receive cookies.; Over the past century, Hillel has grown into the largest and most inclusive Jewish campus organization in the world. Founded in 1923, the Hillel movement has grown and evolved for 100 years. This is our story.; These black-and-white images hold some of our favorite memories.; 1923 Benjamin Frankel opens the first Hillel at the University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign.; 1948 Hillel organizes the third summer institute to engage more students and professionals.; 1970Students study a portion of the Talmud, an extensive collection of Jewish laws and traditions.; 1988Hillel facilitates a call between former refuseniks and their families in the Soviet Union.; 1923Hillel begins with a noble mission, and a breathtaking vision: to convey Jewish civilization to a new generation. Upon graduating from rabbinical school in 1923, Rabbi Benjamin Frankel accepts a part-time pulpit with a congregation in Champaign, Illinois, under the condition that he could continue to work with college students. Fundraising efforts begin to turn Frankel's part-time program into a full-time organization, and the first Hillel opens at the University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign.1924Norman De Nosaquo, a Jewish student at the University of Wisconsin, writes a letter to the editor praising the creation of Hillel at the University of Illinois and arguing for the creation of a similar group at the University of Wisconsin. A few months later, Hillel at the University of Wisconsin, Madison is founded.1925B'nai B'rith President Adolf Kraus notes, "I believe that foundations such as those now existing at the University of Illinois and at the University of Wisconsin should be extended into all universities and schools for higher education, in which suitable provision is not made for Jewish students, to encourage the cultivation of their Judaism."; 1937Dr. Lee Levinger releases "The Jewish Student in America" (PDF file), featuring statistics and analysis of the 1935 study of Jewish student enrollment in 1,400 institutions of higher learning in the United States.; 1939With 12 full-fledged Foundations in operation, Hillel announces a major program to create "Hillel Extension Units" on 18 campuses with smaller Jewish populations. National Jewish Monthly, November 1939 (PDF file); 1944In "The B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundations - Retrospect and Prospect" (PDF file), Ohio State University Hillel Director Harry Kaplan discusses Hillel's role in the post-war era, including re-integrating veterans and combating campus antisemitism.; 1945Packed with photos, this 1945 Hillel brochure (PDF file) assesses Hillel's accomplishments and future objectives. It notes that Hillel "operates on the principle that the patterns of Jewish life are important in the composite of western civilization, and that the university is enriched when it supplements the resources of the campus with the best in the Jewish tradition."; 1959An excerpt from the National Jewish Monthly (PDF file) follows University of Pennsylvania student Joan Kaplan as she participates in Hillel activities.; Hillels, usually employing only one or two staff members, are deluged by waves of Baby Boomer students. Campuses that once hosted small Jewish populations become viable Jewish communities in need of Hillel Foundations.; 1973In the June 1973 National Jewish Monthly, Hillel pioneer Abram L. Sachar discusses the early history of the organization, a Hillel director describes the professional's role on campus, a former student shares how his Hillel inspires him, and Hillel Executive Director Rabbi Alfred Jospe assesses contemporary students.; 1974Hillel marks its 50th anniversary with "The Test of Time" (PDF file), a compendium of essays on Hillel's past, present, and future from prominent Hillel professionals and academics. Writers include Abram Sachar, Marvin Fox, and Philip M. Klutznick.; 1980sCollege admission barriers to Jews drop in the postwar decades. During the 1980s, it is estimated that 80 percent of all Jewish college students attend 109 universities with Jewish student populations greater than 1,000 and that hundreds more campuses attract smaller Jewish student enrollments. Even at the apogee of B'nai B'rith's strength, the sheer scope of the challenge to serve Jews on campus grows beyond its capacity. The organization is forced to cut its financial allocations to Hillel by 50 percent.; 1988B'nai B'rith hires Richard M. Joel, a 37-year-old attorney and Yeshiva University dean, to revitalize Hillel.; During the 1990s, Hillel splits from B'nai B'rith, renaming itself Hillel: The Foundation for Jewish Campus Life. It rebounds with unprecedented vigor. By the late 1990s, Hillel encompasses 120 foundations and 400 affiliates.; 1994Renowned Jewish leader Edgar M. Bronfman, chairman of the board of the Seagram Corporation and chair of the World Jewish Congress, becomes chair of the Hillel International Board of Governors.; 1998Under the energetic leadership of Richard Joel, Hillel wins support from major Jewish family foundations and local federations of Jewish philanthropy, both to build impressive new facilities and to underwrite new ventures. Hillel's "Campaign for a Jewish Renaissance" raises $37.5 million in 1998 alone.; 1999Birthright Israel sends the first group of students to Israel on a free 10-day trip to strengthen their Jewish identities and connections to the state of Israel.; 2002Thousands of Hillel students pledge their solidarity with Israel on April 15, 2002 in Washington D.C., at the largest rally of its kind in the capital's history.; 2004Hillel social justice drives result in the addition of over 4,600 new donors to the Gift of Life Bone Marrow Registry.; 2008Participating in Hillel's Alternative Spring Break, students help to rebuild neighborhoods devastated by 2005's Hurricane Katrina and further damaged by the 2008 hurricane season.; 2011Nearly 200 students from eight Hillel Centers across Israel assist the Carmel region in its recovery from the summer's devastating wildfires.; 2012Craigslist founder and philanthropist Craig Newmark includes Hillel's Ask Big Questions initiative on his list of "16 People and Organizations Changing the World in 2012."; 2013Hillel International names former Congressman and Chancellor of the Ohio Board of Regents Eric D. Fingerhut as its new President and CEO.; 2014The Ezra Fellowship and Base Hillel programs are launched. Hillel Germany opens in Berlin.; 2016Actor and 2015 Genesis Prize winner Michael Douglas and head of the Jewish Agency for Israel, Nathan Sharansky, visit three college campuses on a Hillel-sponsored speaking tour to talk about Judaism, Israel, and modern antisemitism. The Hillel Talent Grants and Springboard Fellowships are established, and HillelU is launched. Hillel Warsaw, the first-ever Hillel in Poland, opens on the 73rd anniversary of the Warsaw Ghetto Uprising.; 2018With input from the Hillel International Student Cabinet, Hillel launches MitzVote, a new initiative to inspire 100,000 students to vote in the 2018 midterm elections. The first cohort of Springboard Fellows graduates.; 2020Hillel International names Adam Lehman as its new president and CEO. Lehman, a successful executive and entrepreneur, previously served as chief operating officer and interim president and CEO of Hillel International.Hillel@Home launches to provide high-quality virtual learning and community experiences to Jewish students amid the coronavirus pandemic. Hillels around the world also adapt their offerings for students in isolation, using online platforms to organize programs and provide to-go meals for students.2022Hillel International launches an Emergency Relief Fund to support five Hillels in Ukraine, as well as refugees sheltering at Hillels in Central Asia and Eastern Europe. In less than three weeks, the fund raises more than $1 million, helping provide food, shelter, water, medicine, and social services to hundreds of displaced Ukrainian Jews.2023Hillel celebrates its Centennial: 100 years of supporting and connecting with Jewish college students around the globe.; Search colleges and universities for all kinds of

Jewish experiences; Contact Information; ; Established in 1923, Hillel International is the world's largest and most inclusive Jewish campus organization, serving 160,000 college students each year.; (C) 2024 Hillel International; Hillel: The Foundation for Jewish Campus Life is a 501(c)(3) organization, EIN# 52-1844823;

Summaries of Links: Based solely on the provided information, it can be inferred that Hillel is a multifaceted organization with a focus on Jewish culture, education, and community engagement. The organization's website includes sections on Jewish traditions and holidays, Jewish and Israel education, and social impact, suggesting that it plays a role in fostering Jewish identity and promoting understanding of Jewish culture. Additionally, Hillel offers scholarships, resources, and support for Jewish students, indicating its commitment to the academic and personal growth of Jewish youth. The website also includes information on Hillel's work in confronting antisemitism and promoting a safe and inclusive community, highlighting its dedication to addressing issues of discrimination and hate. Furthermore, Hillel's involvement in organizing events, trips, and initiatives such as the Birthright Israel trip and the Teach-In on Antisemitism suggests that it actively engages with Jewish students and communities to promote Jewish life and values. ""