"""Twitter handle (and profile name): Students4Speech (Students for Free Expression)

Twitter description: Students for Free Expression: students, faculty and alumni from around the world united in supporting free and open exchange of ideas.

Description of the organization from a third party source: "The Free Speech Movement began as an entirely student-led initiative. However, free speech has been increasingly undermined by attempts of students and administrators alike to silence those with whom they disagree. We seek to reclaim that original tradition with this student-created Statement of Principles."
